

CHURCHES AND PASTORS.

Annual Meeting of the Olive Branch Lutheran Synod.

The Olive Branch Synod of the Lutheran Church (General Synod) will meet this week in the First Lutheran Church, Rev. John Balty, pastor. It will be its forty-first meeting. "Southern Indiana" would be a better name to distinguish this body of churches by, as its territory is mainly south of Indianapolis, and as there is a body of the same general persuasion known as the Northern Indiana Synod, which met recently at North Manchester. Five of the congregations belonging to the Southern branch are in Kentucky, three of them being in Louisville. Rev. D. A. Kuhn, of Edinburgh, is president, Rev. W. H. Dalbey, of Jeffersonville, Ky., secretary, and Mr. John H. Orr, of this city, treasurer. The opening sermon will be preached Tuesday evening, by the president. The synod will be opened formally Wednesday morning, at 9 o'clock. There will be sermons during the meeting, in the evening, on missions, education and other topics. The general secretaries of the mission's boards will be present. The woman's missionary societies will hold their annual convention, in the main room of the church, Thursday and Friday. Thursday evening they will hold a mass-meeting, which the synod will adjourn to attend. Mrs. J. J. Young, of Richmond, will preside over the woman's convention. All the sessions of both conventions will be open to the public.

Religious Notes.

The Methodist ministers will hereafter hold their Monday morning meetings at Robert's Park Church. Rev. W. F. McMillen, of Oberlin, O., will occupy the pulpit at the Mayflower Congregational Church to day.

"A Christian Soldier and Patriot" will be the topic of Dr. McLeod's sermon, this morning, at the Second Church.

Rev. H. A. Edson, of the Memorial Presbyterian Church, will preach this evening on "Religion and Business."

A sermon to printers will be delivered this evening at the Fourth Presbyterian Church by its pastor, Rev. E. V. Hunter.

The new pastor, the Rev. Dr. H. A. Cleveland, of the Madison-street Methodist Episcopal Church, will preach a Sabbath service to-day.

Dillon-street Methodist Protestant Church will be reopened to-day, after having undergone repairs. The Rev. J. F. Williams will preach both morning and evening.

There will be a full choral service at Grace Cathedral, corner St. Joe and Pennsylvania streets, this evening, with a sermon by the Rev. Mr. Shaw, upon "Prayer and Fasting."

Rev. O. C. McCulloch, at Plymouth Church this morning, will preach on "Prison Reform." The monthly illustrated sermons will be resumed in the evening, Burns's "Fetter's Saturday Night" being the subject.

Colonel Johnson's Future Home.

Col. A. W. Johnson, who built a house by the sea near New York city. This site overlooks New York bay, and is in full view of the statue of Liberty. The house will be built on the edge of a rocky cliff and terraced down to the beach. A stone wall will go around the beach ten feet above high tide. On each corner will be stone towers, one of which will be used for an observatory. The house will be built of rock-face stone. A broad circular piazza on the sea-front will be one of the principal features of the design. The sea-front is large enough to take in the back-lane and forest of the early pioneer days. Everything is made on the liberal scale, and the result is the most beautiful of the kind in the city. The design is by J. H. Stem and, in company with Colonel Johnson, he will leave for New York, in a few days, to begin the work.

A Switchman's Fatal Accident.

Levi Waller, a switchman in the L. & D. S. yards west of the river, was struck by an L. & S. L. passenger car at 3:30 o'clock yesterday morning and instantly killed. He was knocked ten feet from the track, and when picked up was found to have his skull fractured and both legs broken. Flannery & Buchanan removed the body to their morgue. Waller was fifty-five years of age, and lived with a nephew at 14 Illinois avenue. The remains will be shipped to Burlington Springs, Pa.

Indianapolis Illustrated.

Indianapolis is to be illustrated in Frank Leslie's Illustrated Newspaper to the extent of a double page of views and two or three columns of descriptive matter, showing up the general commercial and industrial advances of the city. John H. Patterson, a representative of that journal, arrived yesterday for the purpose of completing the arrangements. This special edition will appear in four weeks.
